

Help serve your Parish

..... become an Honorary Police Officer

What is the Honorary Police?

A voluntary Police service that has been part of Jersey for over 400 years. It is the second oldest police force in the world.

Each Parish has its own Honorary Police Officers and their role is to maintain law and order within their own Parish.

Honorary Police Officers provide an essential service to the community and are an important part of Parish life.

In Trinity we have 4 Centeniers who manage 5 teams, each consisting of 1 Vingtenier and 2 Constable's Officers.

Currently we require 4 Constable's Officers due to promotions, retirements and leaving the Island.

Anyone can volunteer who:

Lives in the Parish and:
Is aged 21 to 70
Is of suitable character and ability

Officers come from all walks of life and many work full time.

What are the benefits of joining?

The Honorary Police is the most interesting and varied role in Jersey.

You can help our community, helping those in needs, keeping people safe and maintaining law and order.

You can enhance your problem solving and decision making skills.

You can get to know your Parish better.

What are the duties of an Honorary Police Officer?

Officers undertake foot and vehicle patrols, respond to emergencies, conduct licensed premises and vehicle checks, search for missing persons and assist at major events and Royal visits.

In Trinity, officers also provide policing when required at the Weekender event, Bouley Bay Hill Climb and various Durrell events.

Is Equipment and Training provided?

Yes.

You will be provided with full Police uniform and a wide range of equipment.

Training is mandatory. You will be trained in all general policing duties. Centeniers have additional training regarding Parish Hall Enquiries, charging and presenting at Court.

How much time does it take?

During the week, which is 1 week in 5, Constable's Officers are expected to do a few patrols – some during the day at weekends and some in the evenings; also to assist with any events taking place during that week, planned or unplanned.

We understand that some people can only offer time in the evenings whilst others can help during the day.

We are therefore flexible with regard to officers' needs to balance family, work and police duties.
